

Special issue: Academic English across cultures
Edited by Marina Bondi and Christopher Williams

CONTENTS

Foreword	5
Siân Alsop, Emma Moreton & Hilary Nesi The use of storytelling in university Engineering lectures	7
Marie-Lise Assier Using medical fiction to motivate students in public health fields	21
Mahmood Reza Atai & Seyyed Asadollah Asadi Assessing academic and professional English language needs of Iranian railway engineering students: a triangulated evaluation study	35
Donna Bain Butler, Yalun Zhou & Michael Wei When the culture of learning plays a role in academic English writing	55
Shahabaddin Behtary & Mehran Davaribina Genre variation and its impact on EFL students' reading comprehension	75
Oana Maria Carciu Formulating identity in academic writing across cultures: n-grams in Introduction sections	87
Shirley Carter-Thomas & Elizabeth Rowley-Jolivet Citation from a cross-linguistic perspective: the case of French researchers publishing in English	111
Carmel Heah & Sujata S. Kathpalia Conventional and culture-specific metaphor in Singapore financial discourse	127
Maria Grazia Sindoni English for Linguistics and multimodal peer-assessment at university postgraduate level	147
Notes on contributors	161
Instructions for contributors	165